KILLS WIFE WHILE OUT WALKING IN BOISE, IDAHO

Boise, Ida., Oct. 21.—Stomping back of his bride of six months, with whom he had been pleasantly conversing, Glenn E. Wardell, a rancher of Palmer station, formerly in the real estate business here, enacted a double tragedy this morning on Tenth street, opposite the First Methodist church, by shooting his wife down and then killing himself with a revolver.

He died instantly, the bullet piercing his heart. The first bullet struck Mrs. Wardell in the neck, severing the jugular vein, a wound in itself fatal. The second bullet lodged in her groin. She never regained consciousness and died a few minutes later on the way to the hospital.

Mind Loses Balance.

Temporary insanity is assigned as the cause of the crime. Both young people were well known here. Ward.

ter 9:30 and while walking to the city, Glenn and Viola were talking about what they would do after transacting their business. He remarked that he would have to get his shoes shined and she said she would go to Harry Kesslers' office and then join him at the office of his father. Just at that point, he reached the alley and after crossing it, Glenn said, "I'll step back here a minute." We had walked but a step or two when I was startled by the report of a gun and turning saw him holding a revolver and that Viola had been shot. I screamed and another shot was fired and Glenn then said, "My God, what have I done?" and then seemed to open the gun and fired again, falling to the ground. Viola stood a moment and gradually sank to the walk. I ran across the street to telephone papa and did not see them again.

ONE TIE IN LOGAN

Logan, Oct. 21.—At the primary election held here today, what is popularly known as the "younger element" of the city in political circles won a decided victory. In the mayoralty contest P. A. Thatcher had a big lead, while John Q. Adams and Louis Cardon tied, thus necessitating a choice by lot for a place on the ballot. The results follow:

P. A. Thatcher 428
R. F. Allen 160
J. H. Marshall 160
For councilmen—

Peter C. Nelson 496
A. G. Lindstrom 462
For auditor, William Evans, Jr., was unopposed and received virtually a unanimous vote.

PACKEY M'FARLAND MAY FIGHT GIBBONS

(By Sam P. Hall.)

Chicago, Oct. 21.—It took both friendship and money to make Packey McFarland become a welterweight. Billy Gibbons furnished both. At least, he furnished the friendship which induced Packey to agree to trade punches with the St. Paul phantom, Mike Gibbons, at 145 pounds ring-side. Besides the friendship he whispered a little offer that sounded something like a $10,000 guarantee into one of Packey's perfectly good ears and Packey listened. Then Packey said:

"Get that other Irishman into your ring, Billy. Name the date and I will be there with gloves on."

Tonight Eddie Reddy, Gibbons' manager, wired Gibbons from St. Paul that Mike would box Packey any time and any place on Packey's terms.

So it has come to pass that we are going to have a real welterweight championship fight—for that's what it will be—a championship fight that will have just about as much class to it as did the memorable battle between those sterling colored fighters, Joe Walcott and Joe Gans. There stand before the public and say: "I am none in the game today, but I can whip anybody I listen. It is pretty well understood that they are the top notchers at that weight."

Of course it will be a no-decision affair, but it will be the biggest thing New York has seen in the boxing line since the passing of the Frawley law. McFarland and Gibbons will draw $30,000 into Madison Square Garden just as sure as they start. They are the headliners in New York rings; the idols of Gotham fans. So you can see what this clash between the pair means to Gibbons. He wants the money and is delighted to give Packey a guarantee and gamble with Gibbons on the percentage.

The $10,000 for ten rounds is as much as Packey ever made in a fight and he only turned that trick once before, getting the same amount for ten rounds with Matt Wells of England in the same arena.

ALMA ELLIS MEETS DEATH IN EXPLOSION

Salt Lake, Oct. 22.—Further details were obtained from McGill, Nev., yesterday regarding the tragic death of Alma Ellis of this city, son of Mrs. Susan Ellis, 475 Sixth avenue, who was burned to death in the smokestack of the Steptoe smelter Monday.

Full details, however, are still lacking.

All that has been learned of the frightful accident by members of Mr. Ellis' family in this city is that Ellis and a Greek, whose name is unknown, were working in the smokestack, about forty feet above the base, when a terrific explosion occurred. The two men were cutting the interior of the smokestack with a preparation of asphalt and were using a blow-torch, fed by gasoline, to keep the preparation warm, when, it is supposed, the hose conveying the gasoline became disconnected. Instantly a terrific explosion of the gasoline occurred.

Both men were horribly mangled by the explosion and their bodies almost incinerated by the flames which followed the ignition of the gasoline. It is understood that neither body was recognizable when they were finally taken from the smokestack.

Four other men, who were working inside of the smokestack at the time of the explosion, escaped with minor injuries.

Mrs. Ellis, widow of the unfortunate Salt Lake man, who is a daughter of Bishop Charles H. Worthen of this city, wired to her father last night that she would leave McGill today with the mangled body of her husband. She will be accompanied by her brother, Charles H. Worthen, Jr. and a brother of the dead man, William G. Ellis.

A brief funeral service was held over the body at McGill, but further services and burial will take place in Salt Lake.

Alma Ellis was born in Salt Lake on November 7, 1892, and on June 27, 1906, was married to Miss Edna Worthen. Later, Mr. Ellis went to Ireland on a mission for the Mormon church, and upon his return was employed for some time by the Z. C. M. I. For a number of years Mr. Ellis

AMERICA BIG FIELD FOR NATIONAL MUSIC

Salt Lake, Oct. 22.—That music is an entity, an intelligence, and that the composer is not the creator, but the "revealer," was the striking idea advanced and elaborated by Professor John T. Hand in an address yesterday afternoon before the music section of the Ladies Literary club.

Taking as his subject, "A National School of Music," Mr. Hand made it clear that the primary essential, according to his view, was a sympathetic understanding of nature's voices, and that the technique of music was the essential factor through which the interpretation to others could be made. The speaker pointed out that America, the United States, in fact, possessed within its borders all the voices of nature to be found in the far-famed foreign centers of musical art, and expressed the conviction that within the generation the beginnings of a great national school of music would be in evidence. His carefully prepared address was heartily applauded.

A representative attendance of the members and a goodly number of guests heard and appreciated an excellent program.

TWO TICKETS NAMED.

Richfield, Oct. 21.—The Republicans last night nominated the following ticket for municipal officers to be voted upon the coming election, November 4: For mayor, J. M. The citizens of Richfield held a primary last night to put in the field a non-partisan ticket for the coming election. The following ticket was named: Mayor, Guy Lewis; four-year councilman, Gus Blomquist; two-year term, W. H. Seemiller, G. W. Coons, Andrew Jensen; recorder, Mrs. Anna Bean; treasurer, Mrs. Jennie Isaacson.

MARIAN TENNANT DIES.

She came to America with her parents in 1866, locating in Manti. Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at the tabernacle. She leaves a sister, Mrs. Billock of Provo; a brother, John Grier of Pueblo, Colo., and her brother, Alexander Tennant of Manti.

WOLVERTON AND JAMES SETTLE OLD DISPUTE

Sacramento, Cal., Oct. 21.—Harry Wolverton, manager of the Sacramento ball team, and Bill James, star slapper of the Portland Beavers, staged a little one-round event as a preliminary to the main event this afternoon. Wolverton going down for the count and going home to nurse a badly blackened eye, while his cohorts went out on the field and avenged the knockout by plastering a 4 to 1 defeat on the league champions.

Trouble had been brewing between Wolverton and James, according to the players, ever since a little tiff that they had last year while James was with Cleveland and Wolverton was leading the New York Yankees. James is said to have made remarks of a personal nature this year which aroused Wolverton's ire to the boil.

ing point. Consequently when the two men met beyond the bleachers before the game today, it was only a matter of a few words before the two came to blows.

Players of both teams gathered around and Wolverton and James went to it in the quickly improvised arena. Report has it that Wolverton landed the first blow, but that James did the finishing with a right to the head that cut Wolverton's eye badly and sent the Sacramento leader down for the count.

REICH DEFEATS LOGAN IN AMATEURISH BOUT

New York, Oct. 21.—Al Reich, former amateur heavyweight champion, whose star of destiny so far as white hope aspirations are concerned, was so rudely jarred by Carl Morris a few weeks ago, knocked out Tim Logan in the fourth round of the windup before the Atlantic Garden Athletic club tonight.

Reich was lucky. He did not seem to know how to fight—neither how to protect himself nor to take advantage of his opponent's openings. But Logan didn't know how to fight either. In the first three rounds Logan got to Reich half a dozen times with straight rights to the face and jaw and big Al once or twice appeared to be looking for a spot on the canvas. But Reich weighed 216 pounds to Logan's 197 and his weight decided the issue.

PAINTFULLY INJURED IN FALL FROM WHEEL

Salt Lake, Oct. 22.—Pitching headlong from his bicycle as he rode into the rut of a street car track at Second South and Fourth West streets, John Bodner of 262 Glendale avenue, 17 years of age, suffered painful injuries at 8:30 o'clock last night. John Wilks, 8 years of age, who was riding on the handle bars of the machine, escaped with a shaking up and was taken to his home, 230 South Third West street.

Bodner was removed to the emergency hospital at police headquarters in the police ambulance and attended by Dr. Hardie Lynch. More than a dozen stitches were required to close a wound over the left eye, while a second one under the eye proved a difficult task for the surgeon. The injured youth was sent home and it is thought will suffer no permanent ill effects from the accident.

STABBING AT HAILEY RESULTS FATAL

Hailey, Ida., Oct. 21.—Elmer Williams of Spring Creek, who was stabbed seventeen times last Saturday night by Dick White, it is alleged, died here today. White is in jail.

The stabbing is reported to have followed a quarrel between the men. According to Dean Powell of Bellevue and William Brown of Spring Creek, who claim they were witnesses to the fight, White was the aggressor.

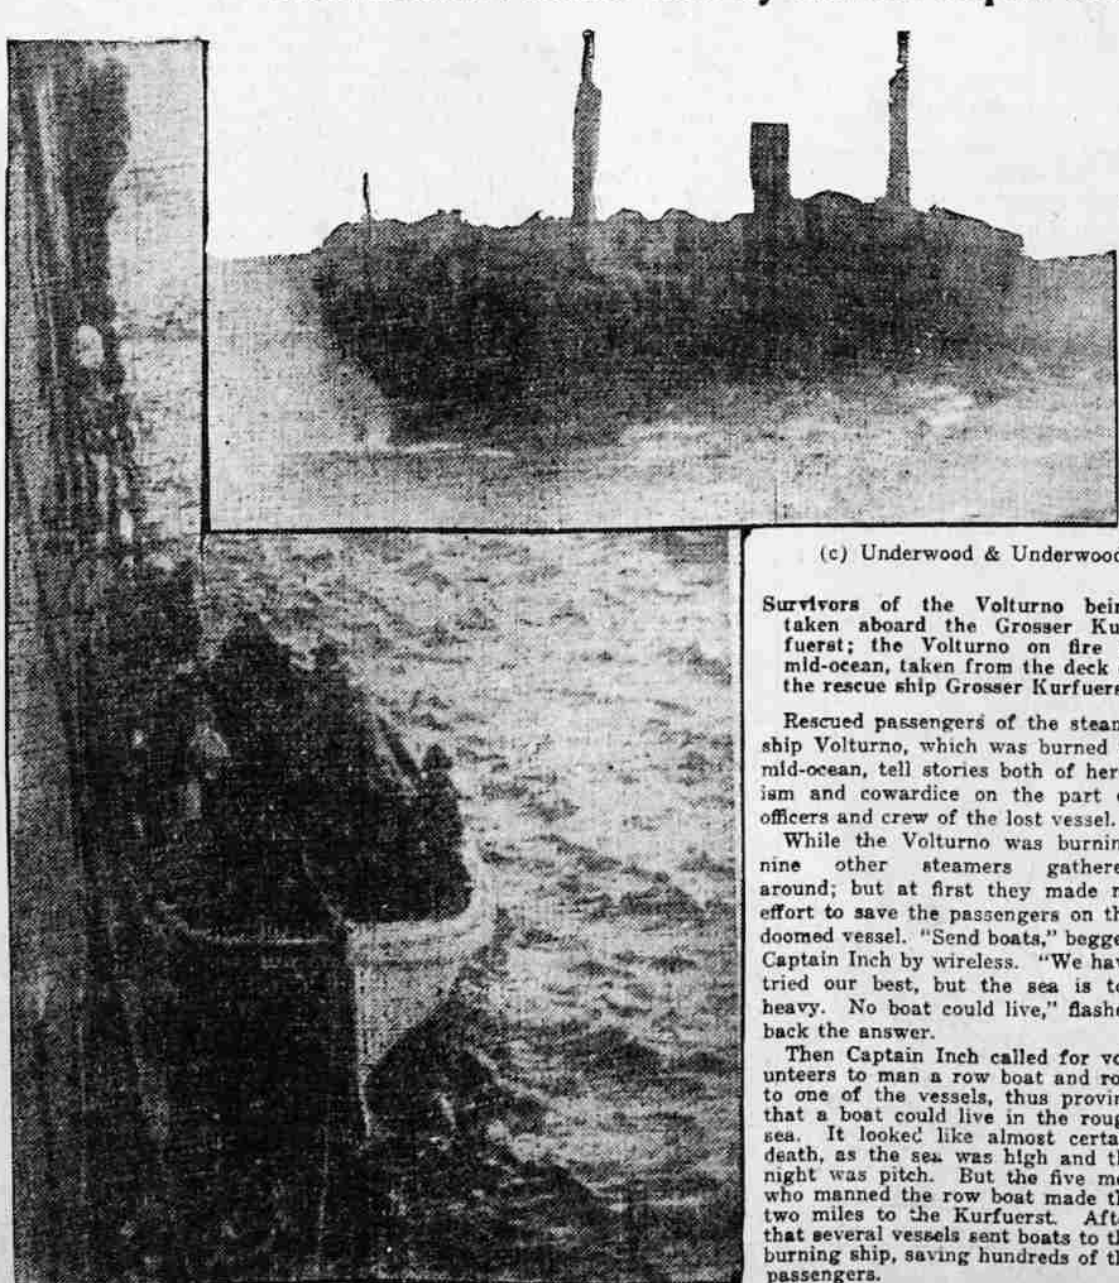

Powell and Brown say they thought at first that the fracas was merely a fist fight, and held back White's brother in order to insure fair play. Williams knocked White down, whereupon the latter, say Brown and Powell, drew a knife and began hacking at Williams' leg. When the men saw blood flowing they realized the seriousness of the fight and interfered, overpowering White.

Williams was 29 years old and a resident in Ogden, Utah, until six years ago, when the family moved to Idaho. Besides his parents he is survived by three brothers, of whom one is Elijah Williams of Ogden.

"I see that the Prince of Wales is learning to play the bagpipes," "Do they play the bagpipes? I always supposed they tortured them."

How Five of Fire-Swept Volturno's Crew Faced Death to Show Rescue Possible Told by Forlorn Hope's Leader

(c) Underwood & Underwood.

Survivors of the Volturno being taken aboard the Grosser Kurfuerst; the Volturno on fire in mid-ocean, taken from the deck of the rescue ship Grosser Kurfuerst.

Rescued passengers of the steamship Volturno, which was burned in mid-ocean, tell stories both of heroism and cowardice on the part of officers and crew of the lost vessel.

While the Volturno was burning nine other steamers gathered around; but at first they made no effort to save the passengers on the doomed vessel. "Send boats," begged Captain Inch by wireless. "We have tried our best, but the sea is too heavy. No boat could live," flashed back the answer.

Then Captain Inch called for volunteers to man a row boat and row to one of the vessels, thus proving that a boat could live in the rough sea. It looked like almost certain death, as the sea was high and the night was pitch. But the five men who manned the row boat made the two miles to the Kurfuerst. After that several vessels sent boats to the burning ship, saving hundreds of the passengers.

KEYSER, SHEARMAN, TUDDENHAM AND WELLS NAMED

Salt Lake, Oct. 22.—George D. Keyser, W. H. Sherman, Heber M. Wells and W. J. Tuddenham were nominated at yesterday's primary election for city commissioners.

Jesse F. Cannon and Herman H. Green were nominated for city auditor. These nominees will be voted on one week from next Tuesday at the city election when two city commissioners and a city auditor will be elected. They were nominated yesterday out of a field of thirty-seven candidates—twenty-six for commissioners and eleven for city auditor.

The four successful candidates for the nominations for commissioners were close competitors in a contest in which the public apparently took little interest. The victory of these four, however, indicates an exciting race at the time of the city election, when it is expected double the vote of yesterday will be cast.

Commissioner George D. Keyser led the field of twenty-six candidates for city commissioners, finishing nearly 200 votes in the lead of City Auditor W. H. Sherman. He received a total vote of 3744, which was considered large in view of the light vote and the multiplicity of candidates.

For first place in the race Mr. Keyser and Mr. Shearman ran neck and neck in almost every section of the city. Mr. Shearman led on the west side, but when the large districts of the First and Fourth wards were heard from Mr. Keyser began to draw away from him. Both Keyser and Shearman led former Governor Heber M. Wells by several hundred votes.

The vote of the ten highest candidates for city commissioners follows:

George D. Keyser 3744
W. H. Shearman 3571
Heber M. Wells 3123
W. J. Tuddenham 2749
A. G. Glaque 214
Frank L. Hines 1906

Peter A. Droubay 269
Fred W. Price 160
Robert N. Baskin 157
Gustav Buschmann 113
Emil S. Lund 99
Milson R. Pratt 42
Marie Louis Peterson 32
Elias Anderson 32

The vote of the four of the eleven candidates for city auditor who led the field was:

Cannon 3641
Green 2670
Green 1846
Sowers 1809
Groesbeck 1362
I. M. Fisher 988
Clarence D. Stevens 737

DANGER OF STUDENT STRIKE.

Vermillion, S. D., Oct. 22.—The situation at the South Dakota university, due to expulsion of five students for hazing, became critical today and the danger of a student strike seemed greater. At a mass meeting of students this morning a holiday was declared. The students also asked for a joint meeting of faculty and students at 4 o'clock this afternoon.
